

LAMAR FFA MEMBER HANDBOOK

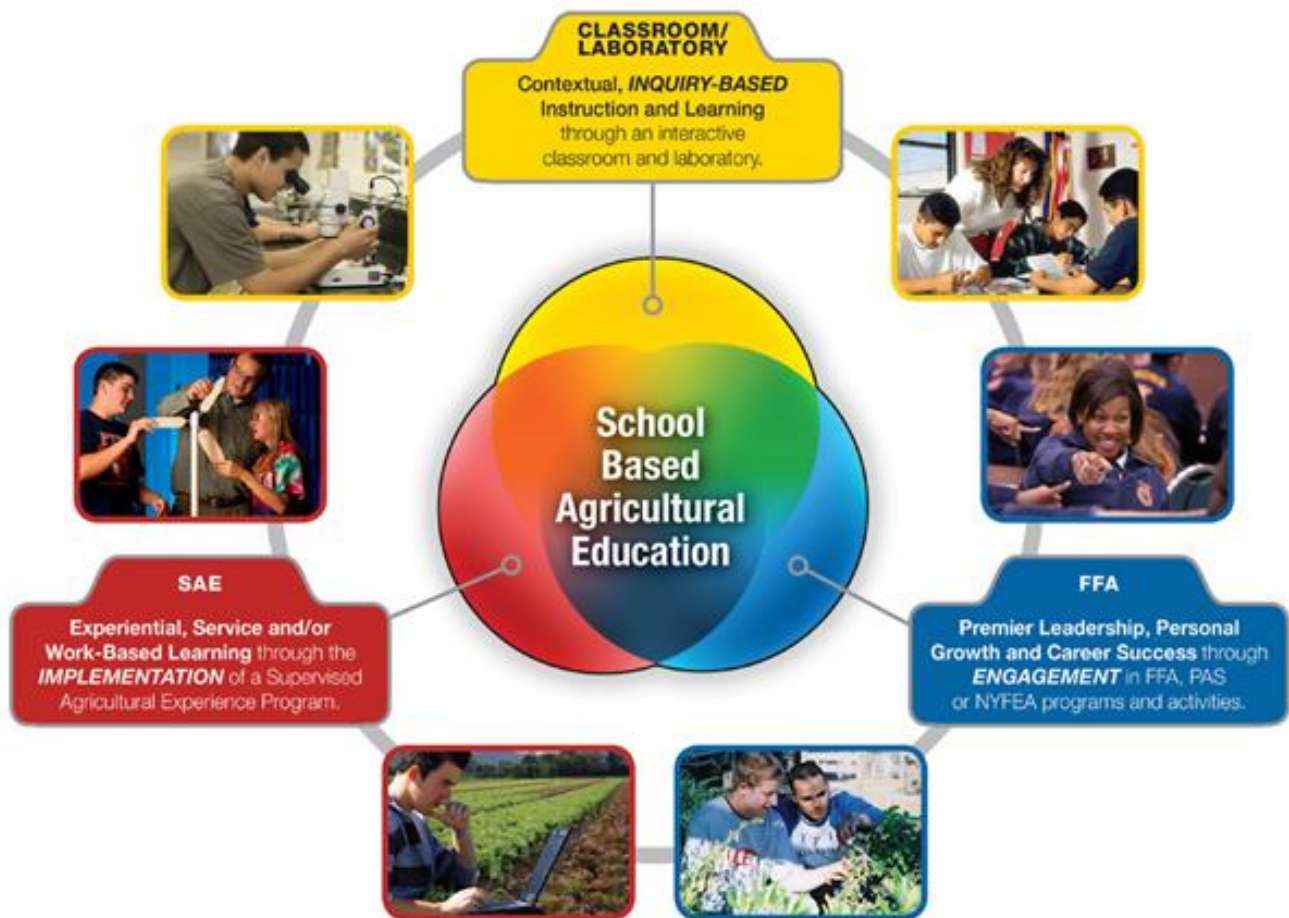

2024-2025

WHAT IS FFA?

FFA is the top school-based youth leadership development organization in the United States. FFA cultivates and nurtures future leaders who go on to change how the world grows. Through a unique combination of education, experiential learning, and service-based opportunities rooted in agriculture, FFA empowers middle and high school students to become our next generation of courageous and knowledgeable leaders. Membership in FFA requires middle and high school students to be enrolled in a local school-based agricultural education program and involved in a supervised agricultural experience.

Students engaged in FFA find out who they are, who they want to become and how they can make an impact. They gain increased agricultural literacy, prepare for success in an ever-changing future, and demonstrate selflessness and citizenship through courageous acts of service.

FFA is an acronym that stands for Future Farmers of America — the organization’s original name as established in 1928. However, the national organization was officially renamed National FFA Organization.

The FFA Emblem

The history of the FFA emblem dates back to 1926, when Henry Groseclose was working on the Future Farmers of Virginia constitution and bylaws. He was inspired by drawings of an owl perched on a spade that he found in materials from a Danish agriculture organization.

Working with R.W. Cline, then a graduate student at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Groseclose made some substitutions and additions to the drawings, resulting in an emblem similar to the one used by the National FFA Organization today.

The five symbols that make up the FFA emblem represent five individual aspects of the organization. Together with the words “Agricultural Education” and the letters “FFA,” they tell the story of the organization’s history, mission and vision.

Cross-section of an ear of corn represents “Unity”

Whether you live in Alaska, Puerto Rico, Maine, Hawaii or one of the states in between, corn is grown somewhere in your state. Corn signifies unity and, from the first Thanksgiving feast on, corn has historically served as the foundation crop of American agriculture. It is appropriate then that the cross section of corn be used as the foundation of the National FFA emblem.

Rising sun signifies “Progress”

Just as the industry of agriculture has developed new technologies and evolved to meet the next generation of consumer demands, the National FFA Organization has continued to evolve as well and continually looks to the future to meet each member’s needs. The rising sun signifies progress and holds the promise that tomorrow will bring a new day, shining with opportunity.

Plow signifies “Labor and Tillage of the Soil”

The National FFA Organization is founded in agriculture, the backbone of our country. The plow signifies labor and tillage of the soil and the historic foundation of our country’s strength.

Eagle symbolizes “Freedom”

The eagle is a national symbol that reminds all FFA members of our freedom and our ability to explore new horizons for the future of agriculture.

Owl represents “Knowledge”

Long recognized as a symbol of wisdom and knowledge, the owl symbolizes the knowledge required to be successful in the industry of agriculture.

Agricultural Education and FFA

The words “Agricultural Education” and the letters “FFA” are emblazoned in the center of the emblem to signify the combination of learning and leadership necessary for progressive agriculture.

The FFA Creed

I believe in the future of agriculture, with a faith born not of words but of deeds - achievements won by the present and past generations of agriculturists; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm, or to be engaged in other agricultural pursuits, is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of agricultural life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of progressive agriculturists to serve our own and the public interest in producing and marketing the product of our toil.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so--for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that American agriculture can and will hold true to the best traditions of our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

The creed was written by E. M. Tiffany, and adopted at the 3rd National Convention of the FFA. It was revised at the 38th Convention and the 63rd Convention.

SAE EXPLAINED

What is an SAE?

Supervised Agricultural Experience (SAE) is a student-led, instructor-supervised, work-based learning experience that results in measurable outcomes within a predefined, agreed upon set of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources (AFNR) Technical Standards and Career Ready Practices aligned to your Career Plan of study.

HERE'S WHAT THAT DEFINITION MEANS FOR YOU.

Aligned to Your Career Plan

SAEs are designed to grow and modify as you grow and develop your skills and identify new interests that may affect your Career Plan. The end goal of an SAE is that you are career-ready, no matter what path you take to get there!

Student-Led

You will be the primary decision maker throughout your SAE. Many options may be shared with you by your instructor and other supporting adults, but you ultimately have control.

Connected to Agriculture

No matter what type of SAE you choose, it needs to be agriculturally-related. You can choose to experience any of the AFNR career pathways: Agribusiness Systems, Animal Systems, Biotechnology Systems, Career Ready Practices, Environmental Systems, Food Products and Processing Systems, Natural Resources Systems, Plant Systems, Power, Structural and Technical Systems.

AN SAE IS

Instructor Supervised

Your agricultural education instructor will help guide and foster growth within your SAE as needed. They serve as your SAE mentor.

Measurable

Because SAEs are connected to agriculturally-based knowledge and skills your growth can be measured as a graded component of your agricultural coursework. Your SAE experience may also be considered for high school graduation credits.

Work-Based Learning

Depending on the type of SAE you select, your work-based experience could be in or out of school. Specific definitions of each SAE work-based category can be found on pages 9-20 of this guide.

LAMAR FFA HOUR SYSTEM

All FFA members are REQUIRED to participate in the Lamar FFA fundraisers, barn workdays, and social events. FFA Members are not required to attend Lamar Athletic Booster sponsored events but are highly encouraged to. Every FFA member must meet the minimum requirements to maintain active membership.

- 10 Barn Workday hours per semester = 20 total hours per school year
- 3 Social Events per semester- not calculated in hours as events are not limited to timed activities.

- Hours are calculated based on times that students have signed in and out of fundraising activities or are calculated based on number of items sold for any given fundraiser that sells physical items or goods.
- Hours can roll over into the following semester for the current school year.
